PROGRESS...

Dirt is flying in Cameron Industrial Park, people are talking school expansion, housing is under way, stores are abuilding and modernizing.

And Cameron is alive and saying to itself: "I can't believe I ate the whole thing."

Progress, all across the board, that is.

WHAT'S IN A NAME...

Waiting in line the other night at the Milam County 4-H Banquet, I was standing beside a pleasant-looking man who was from Thorn-dale.

"And your name is...?" he was asked.

"Billy Graham," he answered.

"That's quite a name," came the response, involuntarily. "I always thought you were taller."

We enjoyed a good laugh all around.

Yoe To Battle Gatesville Here

By Marilyn Hauk

The Yoemen will battle Gatesville Friday night on Yoe Field at 8:00. Gatesville runs well, and has a very strong passing offense.

Gatesville has a large Fb. Snoddie at 215 lbs. They also have tail-backs Randy Smith and Larry Brown; both are capable of breaking for a long run. Quarterback John Gann will be the best passer we have faced all season. Davidson at swing back is quite capable of receiving these passes.

Gatesville runs a stunting defense, the third in a row the Yoemen have faced. Last week Gatesville had a very impressive victory over Copperas Cove.

School Tax Office Moves

The Cameron School Tax Office has moved to its new location in the building on North Fannin formerly occupied by Dr. S. H. Richardson's offices.

City Police, Patrol Investigate Accidents

Several traffic accidents were investigated by city police and DPS patrolmen over the weekend, but no serious injuries were reported.

Rockdale patrolmen investigated a near-head-on collision on the south end of Little River bridge Friday about 11:15 a.m. Cars driven by Mrs. Frank Hanel of Rt. 3 Cameron and Mrs. Connie Seelke of Rockdale collided. No injuries were reported.

On Saturday morning police investigated a collision on Highway 36 in front of the radio station. Injured was Mrs. Sophie Riley of Cameron, who was a passenger in a pickup driven by Gus Beckhusen of Rt. 3 Cameron. She suffered a broken ankle and was transferred from a local hospital to Scott and White at Temple.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Mrs. Robbie Saucier of Rockdale attempted to make a left turn and was hit in the rear by the Beckhusen pickup. She was taken to a local hospital and released.

Patrolman Leroy Broadus of Cameron reported a one car mishap on Farm Road 486 in Thorndale Sunday night. A car driven by Mrs. Rose Robison of Thorndale missed a curve and ran off the road into a ditch. She suffered a broken arm and was taken to Richards Hospital in Rockdale.

City Stands Pat On Gas Rate Increase

The dispute and bargaining between the city and Lone Star Gas Company continued Tuesday evening at a city council meeting when councilmen again refused Lone Star's terms.

The latest offer from the company was a reduction from a rate increase of 9.63 percent to 7.99 percent, however the lower figure carries with it an adjustment clause in the ordinance that council objects to. It would allow the company to increase rates in the future with only 30 days notice to the city.

E. L. Edwards, Lone Star Gas local manager, told the council that the clause would be left out if the city accepts the 9.63 percent increase, but would be left in with the 7.99 increase.

A motion by Councilman Lawrence Zott to accept the 7.99 increase died for lack of a second. Then councilman Robert Clark offered a motion that the rate be accepted contingent upon the gas company removing the rate adjustment clause. The motion passed unanimously.

In other business, Mayor Gene Blake signed a proclamation designating November 5 as Cameron Day Care Center Day. The newly opened, non-profit center will hold open house that day.

Mayor Blake discussed with the council the bad state of city equipment, and said the city needs a new street sweeper, 2 dump trucks, and a tractor with a shredder. He said he has inspected the present equipment and it is "a pile of junk."

He said funds the city may receive under the federal government's revenue sharing plan should be earmarked for new equipment. Council authorized Works Supt. James Hale and City Secy. Buddy Fuller to draw up specs and get ready to call for bids on the needed equipment.

Council agreed that additional water lines should be extended in Cameron Industrial Park, adding more fire plugs. The mayor also noted that the city has a commitment to extend sewer lines to homes in the area.

Plans for improvement of City Park were outlined by the mayor, including plowing the ground for seeding and building sidewalks. He said next spring garden clubs would take over the task of further landscaping.

Edwin Bigbee, city code inspector, told the council that signs near the schools which are sponsored by local businesses are breaking the city's code, and should be removed. Council moved to enforce the code.

Also discussed was the problem of hauling waste from Royal Seating Corp. in Industrial Park. Cost estimates show the service is costing the city about $52 per week. The mayor said he is working with the management to try and solve the problem of the company's industrial waste.

And a special use permit was approved for placement of a mobile home on Fannin St. The mayor suggested that the permits in the future should be periodically reviewed and renewed.

Revenue Sharing Draws Comments From Congressmen

Milam County and its cities will draw about $270,453 from the $30 billion revenue sharing bill which was approved in the U. S. Congress last week.

Amounts projected for local governments by Gov. Preston Smith in May include: $191,346 for the county; $40,971 for Cameron; $30,874 for Rockdale; and the balance will be distributed to other cities and towns within the county.

Local officials expressed differing opinions concerning the revenue sharing funds. Some officials say the five-year program will help the city and county deal with increasing financial problems. Others believe the program will merely strengthen general operation funds of the city and county and they also fear there may be "strings attached."

TOWER VOTES YES

In a letter from Sen. John Tower, he outlined his reasons for advocating the bill:

"The approach to federal assistance provided by this legislation should prove to be a significant step forward in alleviating both the fiscal and the planning problems facing the State and local governments. Locally elected officials will be charged with managing shared federal funds flowing into the communities. Thus, both the incentive and the responsibility for producing effective results will lie with those who are closest to the people and who best know the problems of their communities."

BENTSEN OPPOSES

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, who opposed the revenue sharing legislation, stated in a news release this week that he opposed the revenue sharing for two reasons:

"The primary reason was that I know of no federal revenue to share, only federal deficits; and the second reason was that in the long run, revenue sharing will not improve local government."

POAGE CALLS IT 'MONSTER'

Cong. W. R. Poage, in his October 13 newsletter, also took a dim view of the program, calling it a "time bomb which they (the American people) will not recognize as destructive until it is too late."

Poage continues, "Uncle Sam is portrayed as a gigantic Santa Claus who will hand out 30 billion dollars to our hard-pressed local taxing agencies to be used (right now) 'without strings.' But too few of our people have looked beyond the whiskers and observed a tax-eating monster with an insatiable appetite."

"Federal taxes must be raised to meet the gifts being made to cities and states -- most of which, in spite of their financial troubles, are in better condition than the Federal government."

Bond Issue Meeting Draws 40 Citizens

About 40 people turned out Tuesday night for a town meeting on the proposed school bond issue, and questions ranged from "Why not build a new school?" to "What about the noise of the air conditioners?"

Plans for remodeling and renovating the schools were presented by James Camp, co-chairman of the school bond information committee, and Calvin Cobb, president of the school board.

They reviewed conditions in the present schools, citing overcrowding, lack of enough classrooms, and the years passing with no major remodeling done to the buildings.

They stressed that all present buildings are sound with the exception of the gym, which will be suitable for girls PE classes but not major athletic events.

They explained that the "skin" of washed pebble stucco proposed to be put on the buildings on the main campus, would not only add to the looks of the plant, but also insulate and by covering all windows but one in each classroom, would prepare the rooms for air conditioning.

A question asked what would happen to special ed when that building is torn down to make room for the new gym. Supt. D. R. Dodson explained that state plans call for the special ed children to be placed back in classrooms with special supporting personnel, so that a special building will not be required.

Another question asked what would be the facilities for assemblies and other functions that require an auditorium, and could the new gym be used for such things as plays, programs, speakers, or other events.

Cobb explained that cost estimate on an auditorium ran between $300,000 to $500,000. He said the board discussed adding an auditorium, but costs prohibit one, and consideration was given to the fact that the community is "conservative," and "lots of people in the district don't have children."

However, Cobb emphasized that final plans have not been completed and will not be until after the bond issue passes. He said a stage in the gym would be a possibility.

Frank Luecke, Herald publisher, also spoke on the need for an auditorium, citing examples of schools that have a combination gym and auditorium. He said a stage could be put at the side of the gym, elevated from the floor, with extra seating on the gym floor. A covering would have to be put on the floor before chairs were moved in, he noted.

Dodson said all the architect has are schemes, and final planning will involve citizens, teachers, etc.

Answering a question about the air conditioning, board member Forrest Sapp said central air and heat had been considered but costs would be prohibitive. "We've got to take what we can afford," he said. He said studies had shown that window units could be put in all classrooms cheaper than any central plant. He noted that the present buildings were not built to accommodate air conditioning.

On a question about noise of the units, Sapp said teachers would have to make adjustments.

Another questioner asked why not build a new high school, and maybe the board was making a mistake by remodeling an old building. Sapp said a new high school alone would cost at least $2.6 million, and again it was explained that engineers have found Yoe High to be sound.

The question of cafeteria facilities in Ada Henderson school came up, and Mrs. I. N. Hughes said that remodeling the cafeteria would not do any good because the place is just too small for the job it is expected to do. Dodson said even though the kitchen is small, it is the most efficient in the system, feeding over 400 children a day.

Mrs. Hughes said the place "can't be clean and sanitary" because of the crowded conditions. She added that "some of you men snouu spend one August morning in that kitchen."

And a questioner asked "why remodel the old gym if it is unsafe?" He said that if the structure is unsound for athletic events, then "it is for any student."

Camp explained that engineers said the gym was safe for smaller numbers of students even though it was unsafe for large crowds.

And finally, Roy Law summed up feelings of the board, when he stated, "The school board must spend what the people will let them spend."

Chamber Sets School Reception

The annual reception honoring school personnel by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce will be held Friday, October 20, immediately following the Cameron-Gatesville football game.

The public is invited to attend to welcome new school personnel to the community and to get acquainted with the teachers, administration and all other employees.

The reception will be held in the Homemaking Department on Yoe Campus.

We Believe In Ourselves...

Things are done because someone fails to accept the idea that something is impossible.

Cameron now has a downtown shopping center complex, from which new construction rings in almost every direction;

Cameron now has a medical complex, two hospitals, community center and duplex housing area;

Cameron is studying the prospect of an education complex, elaborating on Yoe Campus, dating from two generations past;

Cameron now has an industrial park complex, added to only this week in construction by a California furniture firm, and expansion of resident industries a likely prospect.

None of this existed as it is unfolding only a decade ago.

So many negatives, the dark side, have turned to positives, the light side, we would not care to count.

Nothing is impossible or to phrase it another, more familiar way: "All things are possible."

We are fortunate to be a community which believes in itself.

Learning From History...

The Ancients must have anticipated the problems of urban sprawl. The great cities of antiquity, Middle East, African and Oriental, stayed in one place and rebuilt century after century over established terrain.

Other reasons dictated this practice, of course. Distance, construction materials, climate, water kept the ancient cities building atop their own ruins.

Disease played its part in keeping over-population a relatively limited problem until advent of modern medicine along with everything else in the past 100 years.

But it probably never occurred to the great planners of Alexandria, Constantinople, Corinth and the ancient Chinese dynasty cities to spread things out. And for hundreds of years in the past several thousand, these city states, including the more modern European cities, old by American standards, found the means available in cheap labor (slaves), materials and architectural skills to do what mass construction has done in this country.

Planners now want to elevate cities, sky - scraper cities within cities where it is conceivable people would live and die without leaving. To resolve population problems, it is a solution; to resolve people problems, it is a poor one, unless we are to be as compressed as the conditioned air the vast sky - scraped numbers would breathe.

If people won't move voluntarily, as they desire, they will move out, as conditions compel them. It seems silly to play this kind of waiting game and then opt outward after three generations in the city.

Towns like Cameron to cities like Waco are the solution. It is already shown they can create, by rebuilding in place, as did the Ancients, the capacity to grow and prosper even more than in legendary "hey days" of rural center development.

Thousands upon thousands can join to absorb the population growth to the year 2000. If only they will learn from history.

Brazos River Authority Receives $75,000 Grant

The $75,000 grant made by the Environmental Protection Agency this past week will allow the Brazos River Authority to move its study for development of a plan to protect and improve the waters of the Brazos River basin and adjoining coastal areas into high gear. Authority General Manager Walter Wells said Saturday, "We have been eagerly waiting for this grant of Federal funds to go along with State and Authority money which has been available for some time for this critically needed study," Wells said.

The Authority more than a year ago was designated by Governor Preston Smith, on recommendation of the Texas Water Quality Board, as the state agency to study and develop a water quality management program for the 44,000 square miles of Texas within the watershed of the Brazos River and a large segment of the Gulf Coast area reaching from south of Houston to the east to the Colorado River basin on the West.

The Texas Legislature in 1971 appropriated $300,000 through the Governor's office for use in the study, and the Authority added $75,000 of its own funds and applied to EPA for a matching grant under Federal assistance laws designed to aid in the preparation of basin-wide plans for protection of the environment from pollution.

"Soon after we made application for the EPA grant, we started preliminary work on the program, employed two environmental engineers, both qualified in water quality matters, and began to set the study portion of the program in motion," Carson Hoge, director of planning and development for the Authority, said.

Hoge said the Authority had been using its own funds for the work that has been done to date.

"The $75,000 is the first increment of the $375,000 Federal grant requested," Hoge said, "and it is intended to help finance only the first year of the study."

Additional Federal funds will have to come from future appropriations, according to information received from EPA.

House Enriched By Library Wall

A library wall adds both utility and character to a room. Shelves of books ease the formality of living or dining rooms and serve as a sound barrier on walls adjoining kitchen or laundry room.

Library walls also provide attractive display areas for small art objects or cut flowers, and hold record changers and other sound equipment.

'Common Cause' Active In National Reform Effort

Common Cause, the nonpartisan national citizens' lobby, announced today that it has established in Texas the first full-time, self-contained state affiliate of the national reform organization.

Common Cause of Texas has opened offices in Austin at 409 West 14th Street. The Texas office will be staffed by a Texas Common Cause coordinator, a legislative advocate, and one full-time research associate.

Randall B. Wood, former Director of Elections for the Office of the Secretary of State, has been named the Common Cause legislative advocate in Texas. The Common Cause coordinator for Texas is former Dallas businessman Milton Tobian, who is relocating in Austin to devote full time to Common Cause's effort.

Common Cause is here to stay in Texas. Presently there are 5,000 active members in Texas and membership drives are just getting underway. The Texas membership is very broad based, including conservatives and liberals, Democrats and Republicans. Common Cause and its activities are entirely nonpartisan. It is expected the Texas membership will exceed 15,000 by early next year.

"In the past two years we have seen Common Cause make tremendous headway to Washington. The Common Cause campaigns to reform the congressional seniority system, secure ratification of the 18-year-old vote amendment, compel public disclosure of campaign contributions, and open party caucuses to public scrutiny have had a dramatic impact on the national scene," Wood said.

"However, from the beginning, Common Cause has emphasized the urgent necessity for the reform of state legislatures, and few state legislatures are in greater need of reform than that in Texas. The Citizens' Conference on State Legislatures has rated the Texas Legislature 38th among the states in its ability to function effectively and responsibly."

During the 63rd Legislature, Common Cause will be working to achieve some basic reforms that will open up the Texas legislative process and make it more responsive to the people. Passage of the legislation supported by Common Cause in the next session will make it possible for future improvements to be made in the legislative process. Common Cause will advocate the passage of the reform legislation in the following areas:

CAMPAIGN FINANCE

Full disclosure of all expenditures and contributions should be required of all candidates well in advance of election day. Such requirements must also apply to the involvement of special interests in referendum, bond elections, and constitutional amendment elections.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

Common Cause will work diligently to see that enforceable, constitutional ethics legislation is passed by the 63rd Legislature. Such legislation must require meaningful and complete financial disclosure by our public officials, as well as enforceable standards of conduct which should prevent many abuses of public office. The present Texas conflict-of-interest law is wholly inadequate as has been recently demonstrated.

SPECIAL LOBBYING

All lobbyists who attempt to influence legislation or the actions of executive boards and agencies would be required to register with an impartial state official annually and to disclose their sources of income and the nature and amounts of their expenditures on a quarterly basis. Lobbyists' reports should indicate the specific legislation and administrative or regulatory actions in which they are interested. Similar reports should be required of all groups who hire individuals for lobbying purposes.

Anyone who has attempted to get any meaningful information from reports under the present Texas lobby law is well aware of the need for a complete overhaul of the law.

ANTI-SECRECY

All committee sessions and all committee votes, both on final passage and amendments to all bills considered, should be open to the public, and all individual votes should be recorded and made known. All administrative and executive decisions should be made in open meetings.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

Too often we find that the public and the press are denied important information by state agencies and boards, and by the Legislature. Free access to information is a keystone of the democratic process. Legislation to allow easy, inexpensive access to public information is essential.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

According to an article I found in a newspaper yesterday the cities of the United States spent one and a quarter billion more dollars than they took in last year.

Revenues of all city governments in the country totaled 37.4 billion dollars last year, a gain of 4.7 billion over the previous year, but the cities spent 38.1 billion. In other words, they're going in the hole.

I got to thinking. That's exactly the shape farmers were in when there used to be a farm problem. It was costing them more to produce a crop than the crop was bringing in, and the problem was wrestled with on all levels until it finally was whipped.

The way it was whipped was simple: farmers mostly just disappeared. From 55 percent of the population they dwindled to 40 percent, then to 20 percent, and now, finally, they're down to less than 7 percent.

When you're only 7 percent of the total population, with only 7 percent of the vote, you're no longer a problem.

Now with cities, I don't know.

If they're taking in more money than ever before and still not making ends meet and still not meeting the needs of their citizens, the supposition might be, let nature take its course, what worked with the farm problem ought to work with the city problem, but there are some perplexing questions going unanswered.

For example, what do you do with a city that gives up? Tell its citizens to move to town and get a job? With an abandoned farm, you can always put it in grass and run cattle on it, but with a city, there's so much pavement and cement I'd feel sorry for the man who tried to graze it. Oh, there're some laws you might run goats on, and backyard swimming pools would make fairly good stock tanks, but on the whole I'd say the range conditions in Brenham or Caldwell would be of a very poor quality and hardly worth fencing.

I'm sorry, I just don't have the answer to this problem. I will try to work on it some more later.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Jockeying his power lawnmower along a grassy slope, Fred suddenly lost his balance. As he fell, his right foot slid underneath the housing of the mower. Result: a severe cut.

Could the manufacturer of the mower be held legally liable for this injury? Fred thought so, and in due course he filed a damage suit against the company.

"A power mower is a dangerous piece of machinery," he argued in a court hearing. "It is up to the manufacturer to make sure it can't cut anything but grass."

However, the court disagreed. Tossing out Fred's claim, the court said a manufacturer must make its product reasonably safe but not "accident proof."

This has been the law's usual attitude in accidents involving power lawnmowers. Some degree of risk is accepted by the user, merely by choosing this method of cutting his lawn.

Nor will he necessarily win his claim just because the mower happened to lack some particular safety feature. In another case, the injured user complained that his mower did not have the special guard with which more expensive models were equipped.

But again the court denied damages.

"It is common knowledge," said the court, "that the various models of power mowers differ in size, weight, design, (and) safety features, and that new models constantly come into the market. Purchasers select according to their choice and the price of the respective models."

Nonetheless, even though a user must accept some risk, he should at least not be deceived as to what that risk is.

One customer had been assured by a salesman that the mower would stop instantly if it struck any hard object. But when the mower did strike a rock in the man's back yard, it reared back, wheels spinning, and cut his foot.

Later, he succeeded in winning damages from the seller.

Cotton Report

Sample receipts remained steady as fair weather allowed harvesting to continue at a rapid pace in most of the area serviced by the Austin Cotton Classing Office, reports J. B. Russ, Officer in Charge. According to the Agricultural Marketing Service, harvesting in the Waco-Temple area is approximately 85 percent complete, and the Brazos River Bottom area is about 75 percent gathered.
Quality statistics for the week ending October 13 show little change from the previous week. Twenty percent of the cotton was classed as Strict Low Middling (41), 30 percent Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42), and 25 percent Low Middling Light Spotted (52). Thirty-two percent of the cotton classed was reduced in grade due to bark or grass. The predominant staple lengths showed 33 percent Staple 31, and 36 percent Staple 34.

The micronaire readings continue to be good with 89 percent of the cotton reading in the desirable range of 3.5-4.9. Seven percent read 5.0 and above.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Beef Cattle Meeting Set

By Bill McCutchen
Milam County
Extension Agent

With pastures deteriorating rapidly due to dry weather and small grain pastures showing very little promise at the moment, Milam County Cattleman should be very interested in the Beef Cattle meeting scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 26th in Rockdale.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room of the Rockdale State Bank. Dr. Dennis B. Herd, Beef Cattle Nutritionist, with the Extension Service will speak of Supplemental feeding of Beef Cattle including controlling feed consumption, use of area and oil seed meals, feeding frequency, liquid supplements, feeding cottonseed, and other feeding problems.

Dr. James M. Armstrong, Extension Veterinarian, will talk on grass tetany, nitrate chemical poisoning, and toxic weed problem.

This should be a very interesting and informative meeting and all cattlemen and others interested are encouraged to attend.

Milam County Modified Certified Area- I received a certificate this week to the fact that Milam County has been re-certified as a modified certified brucellosis free area.

This does not mean that the county is free of brucellosis but that it has been reduced to not more than one percent of the cattle in not to exceed five percent of the herds. The certificate issued is valid for the period of Sept. 5, 1972 to Sept. 5, 1975.

I would like to express my thanks and to relay a thank you from the Texas Animal Health personnel for the excellent cooperation received from the Milam County producers in re-certifying this county.

SCREW-WORMS - The screw-worm situation is getting continually worse and livestock owners are reminded to check livestock regularly and closely.

The last two weeks has seen quite an increase in reported screw-worm cases from all parts of the county. The situation is definitely getting worse and probably will be bad until we get a hard freeze.

Several producers have gone to regular sprayings using coumaphos and ronnel water sprays at two week intervals to help control the screwworm. Such a spray program does not mean that observation is unnecessary but it helps protect wounds and will kill worms in infested wounds. As a bonus to the spraying program you get control of horn flies, ticks and lice.

PECAN SHOW - The Milam County Pecan Committee met Thursday night October 12th in the New Salem Home Demonstration Clubhouse in Rockdale to plan the 1972 show. Members present included Mr. Anton Anderle, E.J. Provadek, Rusty Farris, Mrs. Clyde Holliman, Mr. Collier Perry, Dixie Skinner, Rockdale Chamber of Commerce and the County Extension Staff.

Rockdale will host the show but a place has not been secured. Show date will be Nov. 18th.

Pecan entries will consist of a quart of pecans and exhibitors may enter as many varieties as they wish.

Harvest is in full swing now, and as you harvest pecans select a quart of pecans from your favorite trees and save them for the 1972 show.

4-H Club Activities

By Rodney B. Kruse
Asst. County Extension Agent

The 1972 Milam County 4-H Awards Banquet was held on October 7 in Cameron. One hundred and seventy four 4-H members, adult leaders and friends of 4-H met at the Simon George Hall. Seventy two 4-H'ers from the clubs of Cameron, Rockdale, Gause, Two Mile, Minerva, Thorndale, Davilla, and Maysfield were presented awards.

Betty Smith, Rockdale, and Stanley Rosemond, Maysfield recognized sixty-two 4-H adult leaders in the county. County Judge O. B. Harden presented the awards to the 4-H members, with Rosemary Ehler and Ricky Richter giving appreciation awards to friends of 4-H.

Four jackets were presented to the Milam County 1972 State 4-H Poultry Judging Team champions. Team members were David Ehler, Ricky Richter, Jerry Mueck and Robert Riola of Cameron. Jackets were sponsored by Horning Hatchery, Ideal Hatchery, R&R Electric of Cameron and Milam County Farm Bureau.

Gold Star Award winners were Rosemary Ehler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Ehler and Ricky Richter son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Richter. These two winners were presented trophies by Ed Laywell, representing the Cameron Chamber of Commerce. Winners of the Mr. and Miss Contest were Donald and Paula Fleming, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fleming.

Trailer Law Repealed

State Reps. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale, Bill Clayton of Springlake and Mike Moncrief of Fort Worth Thursday ended a 16 month struggle to repeal the controversial Trailer Brake and Light law which has plagued farmers and small boat owners since the measure was passed in May of 1971.

The three legislators representing urban and rural areas of Texas combined efforts in 1971 and led the 16-month fight through four special sessions toward final victory.

Rep. Kubiak outlined the changes in the new law:

1) All farm trailers grossing less than 4,500 pounds may travel the posted speed limits without brakes.

2) All farm trailers traveling 30 mph or less and having a gross weight of less than 15,000 pounds do not need brakes.

3) Farm trailers grossing between 4,500 and 15,000 pounds may travel the posted speed limits providing they have brakes on the rear axles.

4) Empty farm trailers grossing less than 4,500 pounds may travel the posted speed limits.

5) No lights are required on farm trailers providing they are not used at night. If they are used at night, they must have lights.

Kubiak further explained that boats and trailers weighing less than 3,000 pounds do not need brakes or lights. Those boats and trailers weighing between 3,000 and 4,500 pounds are exempt from brakes, but must have tail signal and brake lights. Kubiak stated,

Fire Ant March Continues In State

The imported fire ant, small in size but packing a powerful sting, is continuing its march through Texas.

And as infestations are discovered, quarantines are being imposed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in an attempt to contain the fire ants and to treat infested areas.

Five new counties were recently placed under federal quarantine--Nueces, Smith, Trinity, Victoria and Walker.

Officials of the USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) are treating infested areas as well as materials that might harbor fire ants and thereby be transported into uninfested locations. Nurserymen, soil moving equipment contractors and many others are cooperating in the effort.

The quarantine is designed to prevent the ants from spreading long distances by restricting the movement of articles that might harbor them, says

Reed Green, entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Regulated articles include soil, plants with roots, grass sod, hay and straw, logs and wood, and used soil - moving equipment. These items cannot legally be transported from infested to uninfested areas until they have been inspected, treated if necessary, and certified to be "pest free" by a federal or state inspector, notes the Texas A&M University specialist.

Green points out that the fire ants are a nuisance in both rural and urban areas. Invasion by the imported fire ant into lawns, pastures, hay meadows, parks, schoolyards and recreational areas is annoying and causes unsightly damage. The most significant agricultural losses are reduced efficiency of labor and farm machinery, prevent mowing operations and reduce the value of land in heavily infested areas.

GIVE A HOOT.
DON'T POLLUTE

Come hail or high water, you can depend on an electric dryer.

Let it pour! Washday weather doesn't matter when you dry the family laundry electrically. Because you never go outdoors. No battling the wind to hang sheets on the line. No cloud-watching to second-guess a summer shower. You just drop your wet wash into the dryer and set the dial. Rain or shine, the clothes dry soft and full of shape with a dependable electric dryer.

A modern, electric dryer is made to pamper permanent press, too. Shirts and dresses pop out wrinkle-free and ready to wear. Towels are fluffy. And electric drying is gentle enough for even your most fragile things. TP&L suggests that you ask your electric appliance dealer about a new, electric dryer soon.

Dr. Carter Is DKG Speaker

Beta Nu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society attended the regional meeting of the Society held in Temple at Temple High School on Saturday, October 14.

Dr. Eula Lee Carter, honorary state founder, was luncheon speaker. She stated that a teacher receiving an invitation to join the society receives one of the greatest honors a teacher can receive. She emphasized one of the first themes of the society, "Into Today Has Already Stepped Tomorrow." The 1976 theme is "A Past To Remember, A Future To Hold." She said, "Whatever is accomplished will be by members who have caught the fire started by those who have gone before." The Society started in 1929 with hardly 100 members. Today there are 2330 chapters and 120,000 members.

During a program in the Temple high school auditorium, members of Beta Nu chapter participated in a series of skits illustrating this year's Delta Kappa Gamma theme "Don't just stand there! Do something, and let's do it right."

Vows Unite Jahn, Paul Willie

Miss Margaret Jahn became the bride of Mr. Paul Emmitt Willie, in an evening ceremony Saturday, October 14, at Saint Michael's Catholic Church, Burlington. Rev. Pat Johnson officiated at the double-ring ceremony and wedding music was presented by Mrs. Bill Crenan.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jahn of Burlington, is an honor graduate of Rosebud High School and graduated from Durham's Business College of Waco. She is employed by Holiday Inns, Inc. as secretary.

Mr. Willie, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Willie of Cameron, graduated from Yoe High and received his B.B.A. Degree in Marketing from Texas A&M University. He is employed by Zales Corporation, Jewelry Division.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a peau de soie gown designed and created by her mother. The empire bodice was accented with candlelight Alencon lace and seed pearls. The long fitted sleeves and white chiffon skirt were fashioned with beaded lace appliques. Lace encircled the hemline and chapel train.

A cluster of pearls and satin petals held her illusion veil. She carried a bridal cascade of white carnations and baby-breath centered with a white orchid. Her jewelry was a diamond heart pendant, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. Herman Mueck, Jr., of Houston was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Donna Reinders of Houston, cousin of the bride and Miss Marilyn Willie of Cameron sister of the groom. Denise Mueck of Houston the bride's niece, was flower girl.

The attendants wore long plumbeery chiffon dresses with pearl braid trim. They carried nosegays of mixed autumn flowers.

Larry Jungmann of Austin was best man and groomsmen were Carroll Jahn of Houston brother of the bride, and Thomas Bullion of Taylor cousin of the groom. Daryn Seidl, cousin of the bride was ringbearer.

SACRED FOOD

Some Northwest Indians revered huckleberries, venison, and salmon as sacred food signifying nature's providence, National Geographic-ic says.

Workshop: From Bread To Roses

"From Bread to Roses", the art of making roses from a bread dough, was the workshop title for Civic Garden Club when they met Wednesday at the Business and Professional Women's Clubhouse.

Mrs. Milton J. Falkner was hostess for the coffee hour preceding the meeting. Mrs. Leo Fuchs, club president, conducted a short business session during which Mrs. Jim Gandy was voted a new member. Mrs. Sam Houston provided the flower arrangement for constructive criticism.

Mrs. Faulkner, program chairman, presented Mrs. T. Frank Davis of Waco who conducted the workshop in the unusual art of making roses from bread.

She said that from three slices of bread 120 to 150 tiny roses, about the size of a dime can be made. She assembled all of her "tool" before mixing the recipe: a piece of plastic foam, number 20 florist wire, florist tape, scissors, tiny artificial leaves, glue (she uses Elmer's or Sobo), lemon juice, bread, a blender and food coloring. Recipe for Lightbread Roses:

3 slices of fresh, white bread
3 tablespoons glue
3 drops lemon juice

Remove the crust from the bread and blend one piece at a time in the blender until they are of fine breadcrumb consistency. Place crumbs in a bowl, add glue and lemon juice. Mix with a fork until blended. Then work thoroughly in the hands until dough is consistency of putty. The dough is then placed in a plastic bag so that air does not get to it. Mrs. Davis especially noted that this dough does not all have to be used immediately. It will keep for a number of weeks if properly stored.

She removes small amounts as needed and to these she adds the desired color in small amounts, depending on the intensity of the color desired. Again, it is necessary to work the dough in the hands until the color is evenly distributed. From this she removes an amount about the size of a match head, working it gently but firmly between her thumb and index finger until it is tissue-paper thin. Then she rolls it into a diminutive coil to form the center of the flower.

She places one drop of glue on the stem (about 5 in. length of the No. 20 wire) and places the center of the flower through it. From another similar amount of dough she forms the petal and places it about one-third the way around the center petal. She repeats the process until the rose is of the desired size. The petals will stick to each other and it is not necessary to add glue.

For authenticity, after the rose is formed, Mrs. Davis cuts tiny bits of florist tape and adds three calyxes (parts from which the rosebud rises). The miniature rose on the stem is then placed securely on the piece of plastic foam and left to dry and more roses assembled.

The flower is sprayed with a finishing spray (obtainable at hobby shops) and again lets them dry. The stem is then wrapped with florist tape and the leaves are added.

The members and guests enjoyed a covered dish luncheon following the workshop.

DPS Issues Special ID Cards

AUSTIN
Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported today that almost 7,000 Texans have obtained special personal identification cards since the DPS began issuing them September 1, 1971.

The cards, which were authorized by the 62nd Texas Legislature, are laminated and contain a color photograph of the holder. They are the same size as a Texas drivers license.

Information appearing on the cards includes the holder's date of birth, height, sex and eye color. Each card has a special identification number issued by DPS.

"These cards are especially valuable to those persons who do not hold a Texas drivers license, but who need some sort of official card to help establish their identity. Applicants have included the elderly, persons too young to obtain drivers licenses, and blind and handicapped persons. All Texans are eligible, however," Speir said.

In order to obtain a personal identification card, the applicant must appear at a DPS drivers license field office, execute a special application form, present a birth certificate or other documentary evidence of identity and date of birth, be fingerprinted and pay a statutory fee of $5.

The applicant's photograph will be taken and he or she will be issued a temporary receipt. The regular, laminated card will be processed and mailed from DPS Headquarters in Austin.

Speir said identification cards are dated to expire four years from the applicant's next birthdate.

CTC Starts Training In Germany

Central Texas College, a pioneer in the field of technical training, is expanding that service on an international scale. The College has been selected to initiate transition technical training programs for the United States Army in Europe.

Dr. L. M. Morton, Jr., President of the College, today confirmed the announcement by Texas Sen. John G. Tower of the selection of Central Texas College for the role.

Seven sites in Germany have been chosen for the training and include locations at Baumholder, near the French border; Stuttgart, in Baden Wurttemberg, Garmisch, in South Bavaria near the Austrian Alps; Grafenwohr, near the Czechoslovakian border; Bamberg and Schweinfurt, in the North Bavarian District; and Hanau, near Frankfurt.

Central Texas College was selected jointly by the Departments of the Army, Defense, Labor, and Health, Education and Welfare. All concurred in the agreement to send Central Texas College to Europe to begin the technical training programs.

Instruction at the seven sites, under a $799,921 contract, is scheduled to begin within approximately sixty days. Fields of training are to include law enforcement, radio-tv repair, hotel-motel management, automotive technology, and air conditioning technology. This is an initial effort to serve the U. S. Army in Europe, and additional technical training programs will be developed in the near future, according to college officials.

When a man has a brother

A man's got to look after his brother. That's what Timmy said the other day, as he stood beside our baby. And I told him he was right. "You are so much stronger than this tiny, little creature," I said. "From now on, you've got a real responsibility!"

A man does have to look after his brother . . . especially when that brother is weak. But there are moments, too, when even the strongest man may need a brother. —especially on Worldwide Communion Sunday!

Bill Seeks Changes In Hunting, Fishing License

A moderate increase in hunting and fishing license fees, a reduced-rate combination license and changes in several license - exempt groups are among provisions of three bills placed before the Sixty-Second Legislature, fourth called session.

One of the bills introduced by Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells calls for a resident combination hunting and fishing license at a fee of $8.75. The others authorize the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to raise the fishing license fee (resident and non-resident) from the present $2.15 to $5.25, and the resident hunting license fee from $3.15 to $5.25. Non-resident hunting licenses would be increased from $25 to $50.-25.

Fishing licenses would be required of all persons ages 12 to 64. At present, fishing licenses are not required for youngsters under 17.

Previously exempt persons fishing with trotline, throw line or ordinary pole with line having no reel or other winding device in the county of residence would be required to have licenses under the proposed bill.

Another change specifies that persons or family members fishing in artificial lakes or ponds on their own property are not required to have fishing licenses, "... providing such lake or pond has never been stocked with fish by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department."

Hunting licenses, under the other bill, would be required of all persons except those over 65 years of age. Presently, persons under 17 are exempt.

The same bill deletes hunting exemptions presently provided for persons hunting on land on which they reside. Exempt hunters over 65 would be required to pay $1.25 for a special license to hunt deer and turkey.

Scouts Snag Camporee Honors

Eighty youngsters and adult leaders from Cameron Rockdale and Franklin participated in last weekend's annual Texas Boy Scout District Camporee at Lake Somerville.

Cameron Troop 752 won 4 of the 5 contests in Saturdays skillorama and captured one of the overall first place unit awards. Franklin Troop 715 won the other contest and also bagged a first place award for camping excellence.

Other firsts were won by Rockdale troop 790 and 777, while Rockdale troop 789 landed second place laurels.

The Longhorn Patrol of Cameron troop 752 sponsored by the Knights of Columbus won the canoe race, nature scavenger hunt and compass course contest. The Eagle Patrol of the same Cameron unit topped first place in the string burning event.

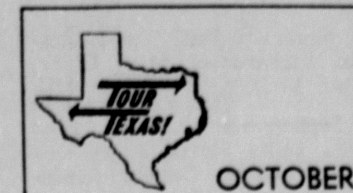

Felix Matula is Scout Master of Troop 752.

The other "blue ribbon" went to the Eagle Patrol of Franklin Troop 715, which won the chariot race.

Highlight of the weekend camporee was Saturday night's campout program which drew a number of parents and other visitors. The park ranger presented a program on wildlife and the state park system, and each troop presented some form of entertainment.

Homer Bower, vice president of the Heart of Texas Boy Scout Council and former Texas District chairman, headed the unit judges. He was assisted by Ron Derry, Texas district executive.

Oct. 27-Nov. 5 Wurstfest, New Braunfels. Last year 125,000 visitors consumed more than 39 tons of sausage and 37,000 gallons of beer as they danced, sang and listened during this gala event. This year it promises to be even better.

SOME STRAIGHT TALK ON FOOD PRICES!

WHY DOES IT COST MORE FOR GROCERIES!

One big reason for the increase in the "grocery bill" is the change in merchandise sold in supermarkets. Today's supermarkets offer a wide range of products from bread and butter to charcoal, and including many non-food items such as pet food, garden supplies, toothpaste, baby powder, nylons, light bulbs and a score of other items.

Today you spend 28% of your "grocery bill" for these non-food items.

Three-fourths of all pet foods are sold through supermarkets, two-thirds of all toothpaste and over half the aspirin and baby powder. Beer, health and beauty supplies, housewares, magazines and paper supplies all add to the average American's grocery bill, yet these are not food items.

"Convenience foods" greatly add to your food cost, too. You don't want to spend as much time in the kitchen, so you buy pre-cooked foods, freeze-dried products, packaged dinners, ready-made desserts, canned ham and potatoes in at least 50 prepared versions.

And today you can buy strawberries around the calendar, have ear corn for Thanksgiving, and enjoy what used to be "out-of-season" items all year long. U.S. Department of Agriculture home economists estimate that this built-in food service has added 25% to the cost of food.
